Livingston County Wildlife and Conservation Club welcomes Shoot for Life and Archers across the United States for PTSD

Hamburg, Mich. – LCWCC - Dedicated to furthering the cause of conserving our natural resources, LCWCC provides recreation and entertainment for its members and community.— debuts its new affiliation with the ASA Federation. For over 70 years, The Livingston County Wildlife and Conservation Club (LCWCC) has focused preserving and fostering a love for the land and it's creatures. The club sits on 23 acres of land with 700 feet of Huron River frontage. Through recreational activities such as Archery, our drive to disrupt mediocrity and commitment to preservation has allowed us to create the highest quality environment for like minded individuals and outdoor enthusiasts who share a similar passion.

"We're particularly honored to host such an event with a highly recognized organization! This club strongly supports the men and women who have and still serve our country. " said Mike Cobb, Club President of LCWCC. "Archery has multiple benefits and brings people together. Archery improves focus, strength, and confidence; in a therapeutic way" said Tom Spisz, Archery Director for LCWCC

Shoot for Life – What is its core?

The mission of Shoot for Life is to bring hope and healing to individuals and their families suffering from the effect of life-altering illnesses.

We do this through a collaborative approach to provide awareness in group settings to generate funding for programs, research and treatment that eradicates life-altering illnesses and diseases in hopes of creating a world where every person is allowed the right to survival, prosperous lifestyle, and fair medical treatment.

By partnering with the community, service organizations, and private sector business to combine resources; we can effectively execute our mission.

A PTSD Initiative

The VA reports that we are losing 20.6 Veterans every day to suicide. We actually believe that rate is much higher than reported. This number does not include those who die each day from incidents fueled by self-medicated substances such as drugs and alcohol. That are being used in attempt to alleviate the symptoms of PTSD. Together we can address this, create additional resources, and raise public awareness to reduce the veteran suicide rate to zero. Through activities that create a camaraderie atmosphere such as archery and a family dinner, we welcome all individuals to show we are united together!

If you are a target archer, bowhunter or just interested in getting started in archery, as an ASA affiliated Club, LCWCC will provide you the opportunity to meet and share experiences with new friends, learn about the latest equipment, improve your archery skills, and spend time with great people. Whether you are new to archery or seasoned, there is room for you here!

About Livingston Wildlife & Conservation Club: Celebrating 70 Years of Conservation!

LCWCC is a private non-profit organization with more than one hundred twenty-year members. The club is ran by an Executive Board making the best decisions for the club and it's members.

The board and members of LCWCC pledge to abide by the laws of the club, the state of Michigan, and to uphold the Constitution of the United States of America.

Dedicated to furthering the cause of conserving our natural resources, LCWCC provides recreation and entertainment for its members, and provides moral and/or physical or financial assistance to civic and community activities whose purposes are not opposite those of the Club.

LCWCC offers a variety of events and activities for it's members and the community. Please take some time to review the website to see what events and/or activities you would like to check out. www.lcwcc.org

LCWCC founders and life members credit our success to the people, across our community, who have given supportive and valuable feedback about growth and recreational opportunities over our seven decades. This focus on listening to the community's needs and wants has inspired us to create recreational opportunities with first-of-its-kind features, notable reliability and paths to encourage outdoor-related organizations to also come together to support a common goal; to recruit and retain participants, as part of the "Get Outdoors" movement.

The company invites you to visit www.lcwcc.org and to connect with the club on Facebook.
